Lights...Camera...Action!™ (1989): is another great game from Gottlieb® that was designed by Jon Norris. It puts players in the roll of a Director challenged with finishing an exciting action movie. This is accomplished by completing classic action movie scenes such as a gunfight scene, stunt scene and a foot chase scene on the stairs. This innovative table features many industry firsts including flood lights on the back box, a rotating mini-playfield, a player interactive lightbox animation and ball jets, which launch balls back at players. This was also the first table to include a Catch-Up feature, giving players of all skill levels a chance in multiplayer games. 1,708 units of this table were produced.

Version 1.27.2

- Fixed "oints"/"Points" on challenge screen in lower resolutions
